YOU'RE INVITED TO BE AN ECOTOURIST

How do we define ecotourism? It can mean joining in a beach clean-up in the morning — and lazing on the shore that afternoon. It can mean being a good steward of Florida's rich natural resources, from rivers and springs to sands and forests, and the wildlife living therein. Or it can simply mean turning off the noise and turning on the fun surrounded by the natural beauty of the Sunshine State. You're invited to experience it all.

- 2 Bordered by three rivers, Madison County is a study in natural beauty, boasting dense forests and crystalline springs. Explore it atop a bicycle on the area's famed 135-mile loop.

- 3 A row of turtles on a log, a sunbathing alligator or a wild hog: Every curve in Fisheating Creek brings a new wonder. Paddling, fishing and hunting are popular, as is camping, at this site in Palmdale. / PHOTO BY PETER W. CROSS AND PATRICK FARRELL

1 Accessible only by private boat or ferry, Anclote Key Preserve State Park is nestled in the placid, turquoise-hued waters of the Gulf of Mexico near Tarpon Springs. Gaze at its scenic lighthouse, sunbathe, picnic . . . even camp under the stars. / PHOTO BY VISIT FLORIDA

PICTURE YOURSELF

2 With over 3,400 acres of wetland, Six Mile Cypress Slough Preserve in Fort Myers is a favorite with wildlife, birds, and folks who love the outdoors. The site features a boardwalk trail, guided walks and an Interpretive Center. / PHOTO BY THE BEACHES OF FORT MYERS AND SANIBEL

3 Stretching for 220 miles through the center of North Florida, the Big Bend Scenic Byway delivers you to places where life moves at an easier pace, resplendent with woods, waterways and wildlife. / PHOTO BY COLIN HACKLEY

LOW-IMPACT ADVENTURE

2 Whether you start off on a canoe, inner tube or paddleboard, you won't be able to resist jumping into the glassy water of Ginnie Springs Outdoors in High Springs. Park offerings include float trips, camping and diving.

1 Stunning and remote — located 70 miles west of Key West and accessible only by ferry, boat or seaplane — Dry Tortugas National Park is something you'd conjure in a dream. 19th-century Fort Jefferson marks the center of this paradise, perfect for snorkeling and swimming. / PHOTO BY PATRICK FARRELL

HANDS ON!

SeaWorld

SEAWORLD

At SEAWORLD in Orlando, visitors can witness and/or experience first-hand the commitment to rehabilitating wildlife: at the Rescue Center where manatees, sea turtles, and seabirds are restored to health; during select weekends in January and November when SeaWorld team members share personal stories about their work; and with the new Rescue Experience, where visitors can spend four hours with SeaWorld staff feeding and caring for wildlife.

At Bradenton's BISHOP MUSEUM OF SCIENCE AND NATURE, observe recovering manatees from a perch above their pool or an underwater viewing window. # SEA TO TABLE

Pensacola Beach

CHRIS JOY

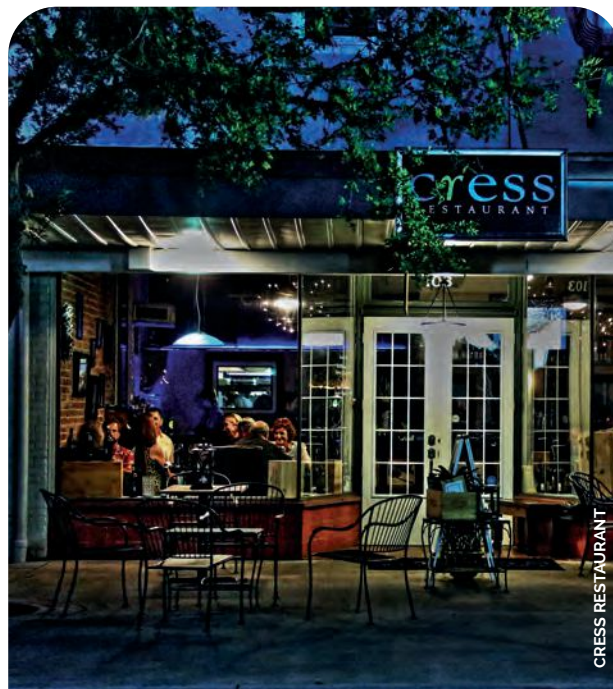

It's the second question visitors ask. After "Where's the beach?" you want to know where to find the freshest local seafood. This insider's tour answers that with locavore hotspots and restaurants that subscribe to sustainability.

At FLAGLER FISH COMPANY in Flagler Beach, expect just-off-the-boat freshness. Choose your fish from the in-house market, then customize your style of preparation — maybe blackened with the peppery house blend — and flavor-forward sauces. NORTH

Along Fernandina Beach's working waterfront, 29 SOUTH Chef Scott Schwartz seeks out wild-caught white shrimp, which he transforms into raved-about shrimp and grits. Schwartz's casual-chic bistro also features a catch of the day from local fisheries. NORTH

Servers at INDIGENOUS RESTAURANT in Sarasota — Florida's only stand-alone restaurant belonging to the esteemed Monterey Aquarium Seafood Watch — double as storytellers, explaining how your "hook-to-fork" dish came to be. Enjoy it al fresco or in the restaurant's wine room. SOUTH

Inside the colorful Punta Gorda cottage that houses PEACE RIVER SEAFOOD, Kelly Beall overlooks the kitchen while her husband Jimmy brings in the day's catch: succulent blue and stone crab, tender Florida Keys lobster tails and more. SOUTH

CRESS RESTAURANT

At CRESS in DeLand, Chef Hari Pulapaka — a four-time James Beard semifinalist and recognized Beard Foundation Smart Catch Leader — turns local seafood into global masterpieces. (Think: ceviche of fresh fish, citrus and peppers.) CENTRAL

Hop aboard a scalloping cruise in Steinhatchee to snorkel for bay scallops during the summer season. Then head to FIDDLER'S to savor them either fried or boiled. Year-round, blue crab and other fish come from local waters to your plate.

NORTH

Partnering with regional fishmongers and farmers, JOHNNIE'S HIDEAWAY in Orlando serves up ultra-fresh ingredients and just-from-the-water catches — everything from wild Florida alligator to char-grilled oysters.

CENTRAL

MOOR, a signature of Kissimmee's Gaylord Palms Resort, is shaped like a ship and "anchored" in a glass atrium. The restaurant partners with regional fishmongers to serve ultra-fresh Florida catches such as wahoo and pompano. CENTRAL

STREAMSONG RESORT

These Florida golf courses spotlight connections to nature by design. At some, the challenge is found in the beauty.

Carved from a former phosphate mine, the Blue, Red and Black courses at STREAMSONG RESORT in Bowling Green were planned by some of the biggest names in the design game. The focus is on links-style golf, and walking, not cart-riding, is the philosophy. CENTRAL

Three primary courses at PGA VILLAGE in Port St. Lucie capitalize on native touches of the land, part of a 430-acre wildlife sanctuary. Palms, palmettos and oaks shade bunkers (with crushed coquina in place of sand) and the rough, made of pine straw. CENTRAL

SPARK

Guests have access to 45 holes on two pristine courses at the RESORT AT LONGBOAT KEY CLUB in Longboat Key. The Harbourside Golf Course, running along Sarasota Bay, offers three nines to make multiple 18-hole options. On the resort's Links of Longboat Course, players enjoy Gulf of Mexico views. SOUTH

KEVIN MCCREEVER

Named one of "America's Best New Courses" by Golf Digest, SOUTHWOOD GOLF CLUB in Tallahassee is one of the finest public courses Florida has to offer. Play over rolling hills and through Spanish moss-draped oaks at this challenging yet satisfying facility.

NORTH

At ST. JAMES BAY GOLF CLUB — an Audubon International Signature Program member — forced carries are standard. They come courtesy of the mangroves and marshes that dot this landscape just outside of Apalachicola National Forest in Carrabelle. NORTH

A predominant feature of PLANTATION PRESERVE GOLF COURSE AND CLUB in Plantation is a linear public walking park that separates the front nine from the back. The wetlands take cues from the nearby Everglades, preserving habitats for osprey, heron and other wildlife. SOUTH

Planning a Florida road trip? Keep in mind that some of the state's toll roads no longer accept cash. Such roadways include the Florida Turnpike, Golden Glades Interchange in northern Miami-Dade County and the Veterans Expressway in Hillsborough County.

To pay the tolls, you can either purchase a SunPass (available at SunPass.com and at many retailers, including Publix, CVS and Walgreens) or pay via toll-by-plate.

For information about using a SunPass with a rental vehicle, visit SunPass.com/rentalcar.

SOUTH FLORIDA

Bountiful beaches, city sophistication and all-out adventure

SOUTHWEST

From the artful patina of downtown Sarasota to the Everglades' untamed world of wildlife and wetlands, this region strikes every note of adventure and culture. Anna Maria Island tempts with pleasures: Dine with your toes in silky sand, discover charming shops and enjoy recreation on the water. Fossilized sharks' teeth mix with shells to create a unique brand of beachcombing in Venice. History and salt air add texture to shopping sprees in Punta Gorda, especially along the downtown riverfront and Fishermen's Village.

SOUTHEAST

Like its ocean waters, metropolitan southeast Florida shimmers with activity. Coastal waters around Stuart lure surfers to Stuart Beach and families with little ones to calm Bathtub Beach. In the Palm Beach area, the luxe shopping of Worth Avenue and creative treasures such as the Norton Museum of Art can elevate any outing. Similarly, the grand neighborhoods of South Beach, Key Biscayne and Coconut Grove make Miami a magnet for visitors who love a bit of glamour with their beach-going.

Estimated

off the Florida Keys

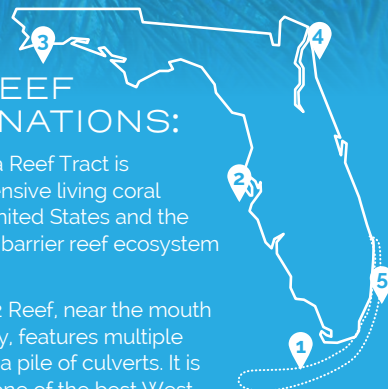

From 15ft
to over 130ft

SOME TOP REEF DESTINATIONS:

1. The Florida Reef Tract is the only extensive living coral reef in the United States and the third-largest barrier reef ecosystem in the world.
2. Pinellas #2 Reef, near the mouth of Tampa Bay, features multiple vessels, and a pile of culverts. It is considered one of the best West Central Florida wreck dive sites.
3. The USS Oriskany, a retired aircraft carrier, was intentionally sunk in 2006 just 22 miles south of Pensacola. It is the largest artificial reef in the world, with depths ranging from 80 to over 200 feet of water.
4. Jacksonville's reef system features vessels, planes and culverts placed along more than 40 miles of the continental shelf.
5. The southeast coast, from Miami to Jupiter, features dozens of artificial reef sites and historical shipwrecks.

Divers experience a close encounter with a goliath grouper near the Ana Cecilia artificial reef, a 170-foot cargo ship that was sunk 85 feet deep just one mile off West Palm Beach.
